Description

Indulge in the allure of this meticulously detailed square tray, where antique metallic finishes merge with distressed glass to create an atmosphere of refined luxury. The carefully weathered mirror surface reflects light in subtle ways, while the wooden framework provides a sturdy yet graceful boundary. This spectacular serving piece doubles as an ornamental display, perfect for showcasing prized possessions or arranging beautiful table settings in upscale retail environments. The antique metallic finish adds depth and character, making each piece uniquely distinctive. For an integrated design approach, pair this tray with complementary accessories from the Astor collection, such as the coordinating display trays in varying sizes. Consider enhancing the presentation with the Large Branch Spray for organic contrast, or combine with the Silver Fluted Leather Handled Champagne Cooler for entertaining excellence. The Castello Aged Stone Ceramic Table Lamp provides ambient lighting that emphasizes the tray's reflective qualities, while the Buxus Plant in Stone Effect Pot adds a fresh decorative element. This tray represents the pinnacle of entertaining accessories, promising to be a consistently strong seller for discerning clientele who appreciate attention to detail and quality craftsmanship.
