Description

Infuse your garden with rustic charm through this weathered stone-effect bird bath, featuring subtle antiquing that mimics centuries of exposure to the elements. Its shallow basin creates an inviting oasis for local birds while serving as a decorative focal point in any outdoor setting. Style with companion pieces from our Back to Nature collection, including the coordinating smaller bird bath, stone heart dish, and artichoke ornament for a cohesive garden display. The distressed finish harmonizes beautifully with both modern and traditional landscapes, making it an essential addition to any garden-focused retail collection.
