Description

Bring the untamed beauty of wildflowers into your space with this botanically accurate stem that perfectly mimics the delicate charm of garden-fresh cow parsley. The intricate umbels and feathery foliage create depth and movement in any arrangement, offering year-round freshness without maintenance. This popular Recipe Collection piece pairs wonderfully with our white gypsophila spray for an airy meadow feel, sweet pea trails for romantic texture, and eucalyptus nicholii spray for a contemporary wild-gathered look. For added dimension, consider combining with purple wildflower sprays and blue thistle stems to create enchanting displays that will appeal to customers seeking both traditional and modern styling options. The natural-looking stems work equally well as standalone features or as fillers in larger arrangements, making them an essential stock item for florists and retailers catering to both everyday and special occasion markets.
