Description

Drawing inspiration from classical architecture, this stone-effect ceramic urn brings refined artistry to any space with its meticulously detailed fluting and graceful proportions. The neutral stone finish creates an air of permanence and authenticity, while the rhythmic vertical grooves catch light and shadow in ever-changing patterns throughout the day. Whether positioned solo as a statement piece or filled with fresh or faux botanicals, this vessel commands attention while maintaining understated grace. For a cohesive aesthetic, pair with the matching larger urn and complement with our Stone Ceramic Candle Holder, Bloomville Stone Ginger Jar, and decorative stone-effect hare ornaments. The addition of our white LED candles and single white hydrangea stems can introduce layers of texture and gentle illumination to complete the arrangement. This carefully considered piece works equally well in modern or traditional retail environments, offering your customers endless styling possibilities for their spaces.
