Description

A wintry botanical marvel that adds understated splendour to any seasonal display, this frost-dusted pine spray emerges as the quintessential choice for discerning retailers. Each stem showcases a delicate crystalline coating that mimics early morning frost, creating an authentic winter scene that maintains its lustre throughout the season. The thoughtfully arranged pinecones add organic texture and rustic charm, while the multi-layered branching structure offers depth and dimension to arrangements. This artificial spray coordinates seamlessly with our curated collection of winter botanicals, particularly the LED Winter Wreath with Eucalyptus and Lambs Ear for a cohesive illuminated display. For maximum visual impact, pair with our Stone Effect Acorn Tea Light Holder to create enchanting tablescape, or combine with our Darcy Antique White Vase for a refined centrepiece. The spray's neutral palette harmonises effortlessly with both traditional and contemporary winter décor schemes, making it an essential addition to any seasonal retail collection. Its realistic appearance and durable construction ensure lasting appeal, while its versatility allows for creative merchandising opportunities across multiple price points and display scenarios.
