Description

Bring the raw beauty of field-gathered botanicals to your floral arrangements with this meticulously crafted Green Craspedia Stem. Each stem features distinctive spherical blooms that inject modern architectural interest into any display. The muted sage-green hue and organic form make it an ideal choice for contemporary and classic settings alike. This botanical accent pairs exceptionally well with the Italian White Bellflower for textural contrast, while the Seeded Eucalyptus Spray and Silver Wattle Leaf create depth and movement in mixed arrangements. For a dramatic meadow-inspired look, combine with Purple Wildflower Small Spray and Tall Green Hops Stem. The structured form of the Craspedia adds visual weight and geometric appeal to looser, more fluid arrangements incorporating the Gunni Eucalyptus Spray or Asparagus Fern Bunch. Perfect for retail florists looking to offer unique textural elements, this stem appeals to customers seeking both traditional and avant-garde design possibilities. The durable construction ensures longevity in both commercial and residential settings, making it a reliable choice for your inventory.
