Description

Infuse your spaces with the graceful allure of this white butterfly orchid stem, measuring an impressive 75cm in height. Each petal exhibits meticulous attention to detail, replicating the delicate translucency and subtle veining found in its living counterpart. The stem's clean white palette offers year-round freshness while requiring no maintenance. For an enchanting display, consider pairing with our selection of LED candles from the Luxe Collection, particularly the Natural Glow Stone series or Sage Melt Effect candles, which create a serene atmosphere. The addition of the Globe Green Artichoke Tea Light Holder introduces an organic element that complements the orchid's flowing form. Our trade customers consistently report high satisfaction rates with this artificial botanical, noting its ability to maintain its pristine appearance in various retail environments and its appeal to design-conscious consumers seeking lasting floral arrangements.
