Description

This sculptural ceramic column radiates minimalist charm with its pristine matt white finish and architectural silhouette. The tall cylindrical form creates a dramatic focal point, perfect for displaying pillar candles or as a standalone decorative piece. Its clean lines and restrained aesthetic complement both contemporary and classical interiors. Pair with the smaller column variations in the same series to create an eye-catching grouped display, or combine with the Garda collection's emerald and grey glazed vases for a curated look that blends textures and tones. The monochromatic palette works beautifully alongside natural elements like the Garda decorative artichoke or a white orchid arrangement for added dimension.
