Description

Bring the enchanting beauty of Australian flora into your floral arrangements with our meticulously detailed Silver Wattle Leaf. Each stem mirrors the delicate intricacy of genuine wattle foliage, offering year-round reliability and consistent quality that fresh botanicals cannot match. The silvery-green hues and feathery textures add depth and movement to both modern and classic compositions. This artificial stem works brilliantly when paired with our Seeded Eucalyptus Spray and White Gypsophila to create airy, romantic arrangements that appeal to contemporary tastes. For a more dramatic effect, combine with our Blackened Grass Spray Stem and Lambs Ear Spray to achieve a moody, textural display that will catch the eye of design-conscious clients. The foliage's neutral palette makes it an ideal foundation piece for seasonal rotations, working equally well with our White Ranunculus Spray for spring collections or alongside dried elements for autumn displays. Trade customers will appreciate its appeal to both traditional florists and modern interior stylists, making it a must-stock item that promises steady sales throughout the year.
