Description

A mesmerizing addition to contemporary interiors, this glass vase channels the growing trend of colored glassware with its calming sage green hue, acknowledged by design experts as the emerging neutral shade of choice. The vessel's distinctive elliptical form creates an intriguing visual dialogue between light and shadow, while its smoked finish adds depth and mystique to any display arrangement. Perfect for both fresh-cut blooms and artificial arrangements, this piece harmonizes beautifully with other vessels in the collection, enabling the creation of dynamic multi-height compositions. For optimal styling impact, pair with the coordinating Smoked Sage Glass Bottle With Stopper, Platform Bouquet Vase in matching sage green, or contrast against the clean lines of the Darcy Antique White Vase. The understated luxury of this piece is further enhanced when styled with delicate florals such as Pastel Pink Ranunculus or White Gypsophila sprays, allowing the vase's refined silhouette to take center stage while complementing rather than competing with its contents. As part of a growing collection of smoky sage glassware, this vase offers retailers a chance to tap into the current interior design zeitgeist while providing customers with a substantial yet subtle statement piece.
