Description

Drawing inspiration from untamed wilderness, this Large Bracken Fern Spray brings authentic botanical charm to any space. Each frond exhibits meticulous detail, showcasing the subtle variations in color and texture found in woodland ferns. The substantial size makes it perfect for creating dramatic displays in retail environments or adding depth to existing arrangements. For a complete woodland-inspired collection, pair with the White Waxflower stem for delicate contrast, the Eucalyptus Nicholii Spray for silvery texture, and the Red Tipped Leaf Spray for seasonal interest. The arrangement comes alive when displayed in our White with Grey Detail Large Cylindrical Ceramic Vase, creating a stunning focal point that appeals to design-conscious customers seeking authentic botanical representations. This fern spray works equally well as a standalone statement or as part of a larger mixed display, offering retailers flexible merchandising options that will resonate with their clientele's desire for refined artificial greenery. 1
