Description

Drawing inspiration from traditional garden blooms, this pale apricot hellebore stem brings authentic charm and refinement to any floral arrangement. The delicately sculpted petals showcase remarkable attention to detail, replicating the subtle color variations and gentle ruffled edges found in living hellebores. Each stem offers outstanding realism and pairs beautifully with the Garda Grey Glazed vessels or the crisp Darcy Antique White Vase from our collection. For an impactful seasonal display, combine with White Waxflower stems and Laurel Leaf sprays to create depth and visual interest. The muted apricot tones complement our Matt White Ceramic Column Candle Holders, allowing for cohesive tablescapes that maintain their freshness year-round. Part of The Natural Garden Collection, this stem embodies botanical authenticity and provides endless styling possibilities for both retail displays and customer homes.
