Description

Introducing a delightful addition to The Natural Garden Collection, this pale pink fringed iris brings the gentility of a summer garden indoors. The delicate petals feature intricate fringing details that create depth and movement, while the soft pink hue offers a fresh take on traditional florals. This artificial stem maintains its perfect form season after season, making it an excellent choice for retail displays and home styling projects. For an arresting display, pair with the collection's complementary pale apricot iris variant, or create visual interest by combining with the Siren ceramic shell bowl. The sculptural qualities of the Chico black wire mirror or the rustic appeal of the washed wood window mirror provide ideal backdrops that emphasize the stem's graceful silhouette. This artificial botanical perfectly balances artistry with commercial appeal, promising strong returns for retailers seeking distinctive artificial florals that resonate with design-conscious customers.
