Description

Breathe new life into your floral selection with our stunning Pink Charity Rose stem from The Natural Garden Collection. This remarkably lifelike Rosa x centifolia bloom showcases the voluptuous, multi-petaled allure of a garden rose at its peak. The gentle pink coloration shifts from soft blush to creamy white, faithfully replicating nature's subtle gradients. Meticulously crafted, this artificial flower boasts authentic sepals, leaves, and thorns along its robust stem. The generous, cabbage-like flower head, measuring approximately 10cm across, commands attention in any arrangement. Ideal for creating timeless, romantic displays, this Pink Charity Rose harmonizes beautifully with other pastel blooms such as peonies, hydrangeas, or delphinium. Its adaptable design suits a range of interior styles, from shabby chic to modern farmhouse aesthetics. Recommend pairing these stems with fresh greenery for an enduring, low-maintenance centerpiece. Perfect for wedding decor, home staging, or year-round cafe displays, this faux rose offers lasting elegance without the upkeep of live flowers. Add this premium artificial floral to your inventory to meet the growing demand for high-quality, sustainable decor options. The Pink Charity Rose's timeless beauty and versatility make it an essential choice for discerning customers looking to bring a touch of nature's grace indoors.
