Description

Drawing inspiration from the glorious parrot tulip species, this lifelike stem captures the ruffled, dynamic form of one of spring's most coveted blooms. The pristine white petals exhibit incredible attention to detail, with delicate veining and graceful curves that mirror the intricate characteristics of genuine parrot tulips. Each petal showcases subtle gradients and textures that create an authentic appearance from every angle. As part of The Natural Garden Collection, this botanically accurate stem pairs beautifully with wire mirrors like the Chico Black for an industrial-meets-organic aesthetic, or alongside table lamps such as the Pella or Incia Stem designs for a cohesive decorative story. The substantial height makes it ideal for dramatic centerpieces and statement arrangements, while the neutral white coloring allows for seamless integration with any interior palette or merchandising display. Trade customers will appreciate how this versatile stem can be marketed year-round, appealing to both traditional and contemporary retail environments.
