Description

The Oxley Collection TV Unit boasts a useful drawer and shelf, circular hole to manage unsightly wires and corner-friendly shape. Its features are all designed to help keep its washed wood surface clutter free and provide the space required for modern home entertainment essentials. Stylish as well as functional, this side table would be equally at home centre stage in a room as tucked into a corner. This item is part of the Oxley Collection which marries rustic and contemporary aesthetics to deliver a robust range suited to a wide variety of homes. Individual, rough-sawn pine planks are used to create these items, delivering its characterful, worn vibe. The product bases are lightly brushed with a moody, timeless grey hue allowing the grain of the wood to still be visible. This is complemented with the washed pine top, bringing the whole look together. With simple, clean lines a contemporary feel is created by the black cup handles. The Oxley Furniture Collection is sure to stand the test of time both in style and quality.
