Description

This sculptural artificial stem brings dramatic architectural interest to any floral arrangement. Its spherical globe head, reminiscent of Scottish highlands flora, presents a mesmerizing texture that catches light and creates depth in displays. The botanical authenticity extends through the sturdy stem, replicating the natural variations found in wild thistles. For maximum visual impact, we suggest combining this statement piece with the Gunnii Eucalyptus Spray for airy movement, the Italian White Bellflower for vertical interest, and the Green Craspedia Stem to echo the globe formation. The Variegated Eucalyptus Bouquet adds subtle color transitions that enhance the thistle's unique silhouette. For a meadowland feel, pair with the Faux White Cow Parsley Ammi and Purple Wildflower Small Spray. These combinations create retail-ready arrangements that appeal to customers seeking lasting botanical displays with minimal maintenance requirements. The stem's neutral palette ensures year-round merchandising possibilities, making it a reliable stock item that satisfies contemporary design trends.
