Description

Bring the allure of a flourishing garden into your interior spaces with this meticulously detailed faux hydrangea bunch in pristine white. Each delicate petal is thoughtfully crafted to replicate the intricate layering and subtle textures found in freshly bloomed hydrangeas, offering an enduring display that requires no upkeep. The structured yet flowing arrangement presents an ideal foundation for modern and classic settings alike. For a complete botanical story, pair with our Seeded Eucalyptus Spray for refreshing greenery, add depth with the White Wild Meadow Rose, and incorporate airy movement using the White Gypsophila Spray. The arrangement reaches its full potential when displayed in our Darcy Antique White Vase, while the Stone Based Hurricane Lantern provides ambient lighting to highlight the flowers' dimensional qualities. This lasting botanical investment promises consistent beauty and appeal for your retail clients throughout all seasons.
